Sensory Resources

There are many companies that sell a variety of equipment that is useful to our pupils. However, this can be costly. The websites are useful to browse, to gain ideas and inspiration that can be tailored to individuals and their own needs. You can often find similar items on amazon or eBay. Some parents do seek financial support via specialist charities.

Each pupil's sensory needs are individual and can change. It is important to be mindful of this when purchasing sensory equipment and to understand that it can be trial and error with these ideas. It is sometimes more effective to purchase a small number of powerful pieces of equipment rather than too many.
